

 ANNOUNCEMENT *****

The Lassen Community College Business Department is currently seeking area business professionals to serve on the Business Department Advisory Committee

The Lassen Community College Business Department is committed to ensuring that the business program at the college is current and reflects the needs and expectations of the areas workplace. In support of this objective, the department is currently seeking business professionals that are actively engaged in business and whose training and work experience enables them to advise on program changes. The advisory committee, required by Title V, the California Code of Regulations governing Education in community colleges, shall serve as an informational body for the program faculty, the Curriculum Committee, the Instructional Office, the President, and the Board of Trustees.

If you are interested in helping Lassen College chart a future direction for the department, creating a more meaningful learning experience for you and your community, and can make a personal commitment toward fostering the quality and vitality of our business program, you should consider applying for a membership. The Business Department seeks to establish diversity in membership to generate a holistic perspective of the business program and the application of curriculum to the working world. All applications will be considered.
